

Mission Statement

The AICCM Textile Special Interest Group (TSIG) has been formed to promote the preservation of our textile heritage through education, collaboration and research.

Our objectives are to:

- Achieve the highest ethical standards by upholding the AICCM Code of Ethics
- Respond with research and education initiatives appropriate and relevant to the needs of private and public textile owners.
- To establish standards for the materials, treatments and procedures used in the conservation of historic textiles and to ensure WHS standards are observed.
- To provide leadership, influence and direction on textile conservation and management issues.
